UM ARCHAEOLOGISTS HELP MISSOULA STUDENTS SIFT THROUGH PAST-- Students at Meadow Hill Middle School will take their studies of archaeology into the field Friday, Oct. 11, to learn excavation techniques from the pros -- the staff and faculty of The University of Montana anthropology department. From 9 to 11:15 a.m., students will dig and screen soil, watch demonstrations of stone tool manufacturing, view replicas of skulls and other human remains from Australopithecus through Homo sapiens, and learn about the evolutionary changes that have occurred in humans over millions of years. For more information, call Jim Welch, administrative director of UM's Cultural Heritage Resource Office at 243-6153 or Rita Munzenrider, UM News Bureau coordinator, 243-4824.
